Dear Residents,

With so much headline news about lifts, many of us are concerned about lift maintenance. We understand.

Thus, we are working with HDB to upgrade 1,781 of the 2,107 lifts managed by the Jurong-Clementi Town Council over the next decade under the new Lift Enhancement Programme.

Another hot topic recently is Zika. Since the Zika outbreak in August, we have stepped up the effort to detect and destroy mosquito breeding grounds in the estate. We have continued to flush the drains, as we apply anti-mosquito oil, carry out misting and fogging operations. Meanwhile, I would like to urge everyone to adopt the 5-step mozzie wipeout to prevent mosquito breeding.

The latest headline news is the market fire at Block 493 Jurong West Street 41 on 11 October. It is unfortunate. On the same day, the Town Council announced that the S&CC charges would be waived, with immediate effect, until the affected stallholders could resume their business. Meanwhile, the Town Council and the Jurong Central CCC are working closely with HDB to rebuild the market, restore it to its past glory and more!

Warm Regards,

Ang Wei Neng

Chairman of Jurong-Clementi Town Council

亲爱的居民：

电梯事故接二连三成为头条新闻，让许多人对电梯维修与翻新的课题深表关注。我们非常理解。裕廊-金文泰市镇会负责管理2,107部电梯但我们将与建屋发展局合作，再未来10年积极推行新电梯提升计划，提升其中的1,781部电梯。

兹卡疫情是近期另一个热门话题。自8月爆发兹卡疫情以来，我们已加强措施，检测和消灭社区内的蚊虫滋生处。我们已继续冲洗沟渠、喷洒防蚊油，以及进行喷雾灭蚊行动。我在此促请大家采取“灭蚊五步骤”，以预防蚊虫滋生。

10月11日，裕廊西41街第493座组屋的巴刹发生火灾。这是一起不幸的事故。市镇会同一天宣布即日起豁免杂费，直到受影响的摊主恢复营业。此外，市镇会与裕廊中公民咨询委员会也同建屋局密切合作，重建巴刹，恢复它昔日的辉煌。

Penduduk sekalian,

Dengan sebegitu banyak laporan tentang lif, ramai di kalangan kita tentunya prihatin tentang penyenggaraan lif. Kami faham. Oleh kerana itu, kami bekerjasama dengan HDB untuk mempertingkatkan 1,781 daripada 2,107 lif yang diuruskan Majlis Bandaran Jurong-Clementi dalam tempoh sedekad mendatang di bawah Program Peningkatan Lif.

Satu lagi topik hangat masa kini ialah Zika. Sejak penularan Zika Ogos lalu, kami telah mempertingkatkan usaha pengesanan dan memusnahkan tapak pembiakan nyamuk dalam estet. Kami terus melakukan pengaliran air longkang semasa membubuh minyak antinyamuk dan melakukan operasi pengkabutan. Pada masa sama, kami ingin menggesa setiap orang melakukan lima langkah pemusnahan nyamuk demi mencegah pembiakannya.

Laporan berita tentang kebakaran di pasar di Blok 493 Jurong West St 41 pada 11 Oktober adalah suatu yang malang sekali. Pada masa yang sama, Majlis Bandaran mengumumkan pembayaran S&CC akan dikecualikan dengan serta merta, sehingga kesemua pegerai dapat kembali meneruskan perniagaan mereka. Sementra itu, Majlis Bandaran dan CCC Jurong Central akan bekerja rapat dengan HDB untuk membina semula pasar, mengembalikan semula kehebatannya dan lebih lagi!

Salam mesra,

Ang Wei Neng

Remaking Our Heartland

The ribbons were cut to open the refreshed Yuhua Village at an auspicious 9.09am on 9 October. Ms Grace Fu explained how every effort had been made to keep the character and features of this popular corner of the estate, while at the same time enhancing them. She led community leaders and residents around the Village, planted more trees and, together with students from Yuhua Primary, encouraged diners to return their trays!

再创我们的家园

We came and checked the plans – discussed them with our MP – and voted “YES” for an NRP that will give us all a covered walkway right into the Bukit Batok West Shopping Centre!. Mr Murali worked very hard on this NRP for Blocks 140 to 149 Bukit Batok West – and the improvements are very practical, They include a 3G Park where the elderly, their children – and their children’s children – can all exercise together!

“How wonderful is that,” asked Mr Murali. We certainly gave a YES to this NRP.

Zeroing on Zika

You've seen posters in the lifts. You've read about it in the papers. Our MPs have helped spread the word all over Town: Zika is here in Singapore and it is good to take precautions.

Zika is a problem we know how to handle. Because it's transmitted by Aedes mosquitoes, just like Dengue.

No mosquitoes: no Dengue: no Zika.

Like Dengue, there's no cure for Zika but, unlike Dengue, its worst effects can be inflicted on the unborn baby.

Only about one in five people infected with Zika actually show any symptoms – fever, rashes, joint pains, muscle pain, headache and red eyes – because it's generally a mild and self-limiting illness.

While there is currently no evidence that pregnant women are more likely to get Zika, the consequences can be more serious as it can cause microcephaly in a small number of unborn babies.

What it all boils down to is this: we should continue working together to rid our homes and our neighbourhoods of mosquitoes. We must leave them no place to breed in our Town.

And pregnant women should take some extra precautions with clothing, insecticide and insect repellent. And if the Zika symptoms develop, they should seek medical attention immediately.

How the Town Council targets mosquitoes

The Jurong-Clementi Town Council employs 24 mosquito checkers. Working 8am to 5pm, six days a week, each man covers 8 to 10 blocks per day. Hunting for places mosquitoes might breed and attacking them.

In the mornings they search the void decks and the common areas around the blocks. With sprayers loaded with antimalarial oil they neutralize any suspected breeding places.

In the afternoons they cover the common areas within the blocks. Because the oil they use outside is a little smelly, they use Abate - they call it 'the sand' - when neutralizing possible breeding spots along the corridors.

The great thing is, after years of working in the same neighbourhoods, most of these men know their blocks well. They know just where a puddle of water may be left standing for a few days after a rainstorm. Which flats are careless with their pot plates. Where litter gets thrown in the shrubs.

They're supervised by the conservancy contractor for the area. Together they check every precinct, every week. If anyone complains of mosquitoes in the meantime, the Council will check that block and call on its mosquito checker to deal with the problem straightaway.

Abate uses the active ingredient temephos to kill mosquito larvae. It has been found to be less toxic to humans than vinegar, salt or aspirin. It degrades rapidly and normally persists in the environment for only a few days. The Abate used by the Town Council is a 5% slow release pellet formulation of temephos which can control mosquito breeding for about 30 days.

Anti-malarial oil has no active ingredient. It is a mineral oil harmless to humans and animals in the quantities used. It kills any mosquito larvae in the water it spreads upon by denying the larvae access to the air they need.

Gravitraps and Ovitraps are now used by the NEA and Town Council to monitor and limit mosquito breeding. The Ovitrap traps the offspring of Mrs Mosquito, while the Gravitrap traps her and makes sure she has no offspring.

What you can do

The NEA has made over half a million inspections islandwide and has found the majority of breeding sites are in our homes – mostly in domestic containers and flower pot plates and trays.

Turn over all water storage containers.

Change water in flower vases on alternate days.

Remove water from flower pot plates on alternate days.

Cover bamboo pole holders when not in use.

Lift 电梯维修 Maintenance

At last count, the Town Council was responsible for the maintenance of 2,107 lifts in our Town!

A heavy responsibility for the Council's Lift Maintenance Technicians. Our photographer followed two of them and saw why the inspection and servicing of just one lift takes one to two hours. And every lift in every block is checked monthly!

Our photos show some of the items, all hidden from view, that are checked.

The Emergency Battery Operated Power Supply (right) is also checked. This safety device is activated when a power failure occurs and supplies battery power to slowly move a stalled lift car to the nearest lift landing and then open the doors.

For lift and urgent maintenance matters in HDB estates after office hours, please contact the Essential Maintenance Service Unit (EMSU) at 1800 275 5555.

programme – an adventure playground, a tree house, sprinting track and a special set of fitness equipment that caters to those who are physically challenged.

Fire in Jurong West

The fire broke out at a quarter to three in the morning of Tuesday, 11 October. The blaze engulfed the wet market and two coffee shops at Blocks 493 and 494 Jurong West Street 41.

In one and a half hours the 30-year-old wet market was reduced to a ruin. No one was injured, but about 50 stallholders lost their stalls.

The collapsed roof of the wet market.

Clearing the ruins and rebuilding a new market will take more than a year.

To help the stallholders, about half of the $600,000 needed for a 30-stall temporary market has been donated by businessmen, temples and other organisations.

It is expected to be up and running by Chinese New Year on the new basketball court at Block 495.

And a job fair was held to help displaced stallholders find interim employment or long term jobs.

Mr Ang Wei Neng said building plans for the temporary market had been submitted for approval and 21 stallholders had agreed to take up stalls in the temporary market. They may be able to sign their leases in early December.

Artist's impression of the temporary market to be built beside Block 495.

A modern and interactive stop

A group of young architects designed a new bus stop for us. You can try it out on Jurong Gateway Road at Jurong East Central.

While waiting for your bus, you can do a number of things – use the Wifi, charge your handphone, download e-books, check the bus arrival times, find out the weather, plan your journey and more.

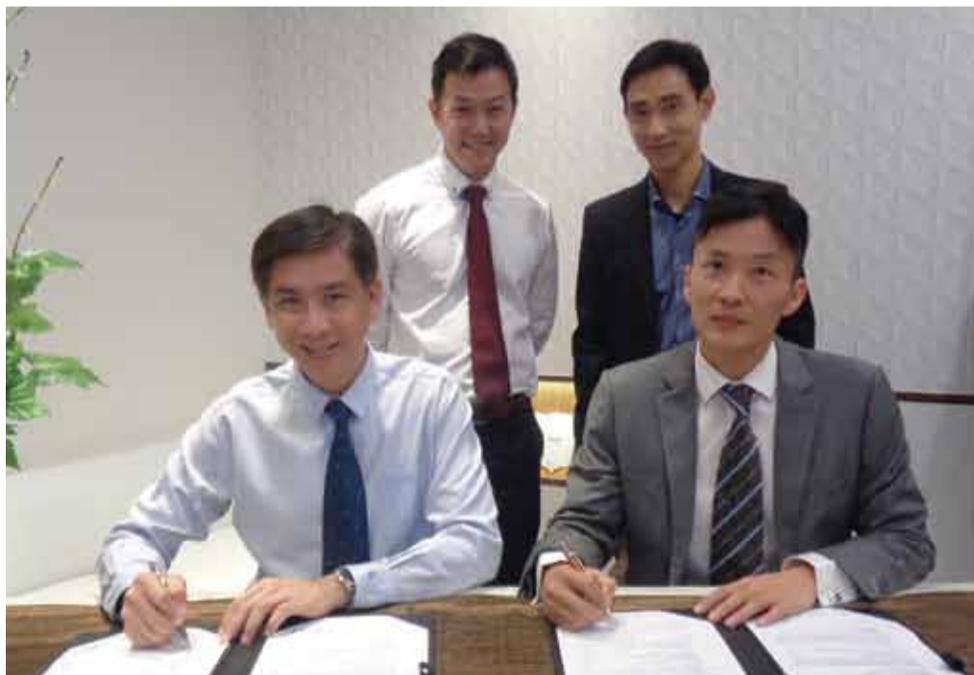

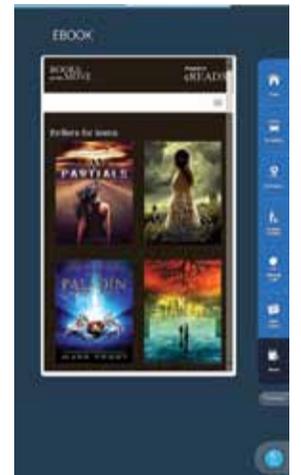

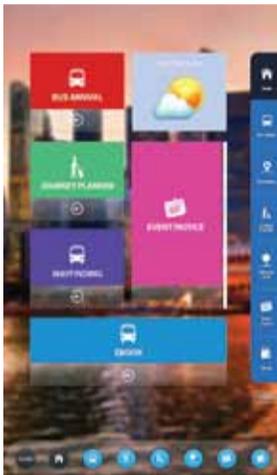

It's all possible because many agencies, like IDA, LTA, NEA, NLB, NParks, SLA and URA, came together to make these ideas a reality.

Sri Nithi, 18, commented, "It's technologically advanced and looks impressive. Very twenty-first century!"

1. MANAGE YOUR CONFLICTS USING F.O.C.U.S.

5 simple steps you can use to prevent conflicts

- Fix It Yourself and aim to resolve the conflict amicably.
- Be Objective and not take the issue personally. Focus on the problem, not the person.
- Communicate your concerns and be mindful of your tone of voice and choice of words.
- Understand the other party's viewpoint when listening to his or her side of the story.
- Suggest Solutions and strive to reach a compromise together.

2. SEEK MEDIATION.

WHEN is mediation used?

There is bound to be conflicts when people live in close proximity. When that happens, use F.O.C.U.S. to resolve the conflict. If communication reaches a deadlock and requires a third party's facilitation, you can consider mediation voluntarily by approaching the Community Mediation Centre (CMC). In the case of a neighbour dispute, you may first seek the help of grassroots leaders through your nearest Community Club before seeking mediation.

WHAT is the CMC?

Set up in 1998 as a department of the Ministry of Law, the CMC aims to provide community mediation services for residents in Singapore to resolve relational, community and social disputes amicably.

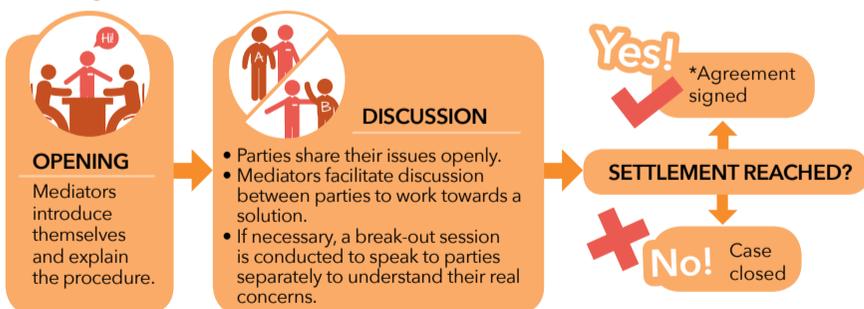

Disputes suitable for mediation are those that involve...

Common disputes handled by the CMC include those between neighbours over noise nuisance and obstruction of common areas; issues between family members over the care of and maintenance arrangement for the elderly, sick or disabled family members; and interest-free monetary matters between friends etc.

The CMC does not mediate legal, contractual or commercial issues.

During mediation...

*The settlement agreement is a private contract. A breach may result in civil proceedings if initiated by the parties. We strongly encourage parties to try mediation again and identify new solutions if a breach occurs as it is less likely to create further tension.

WHY choose mediation?

WHO are the mediators?

- CMC mediators are volunteers from different age groups, gender, ethnicities and professions. They are trained in community mediation and appointed by the CMC.
- Mediators are not judges. They are neutral third parties who facilitate conversations and guide the disputing parties towards a solution in a constructive and objective manner.
- They do not make judgements or impose any settlement on any party.

WHERE is mediation conducted?

It is conducted at the CMC, located at:
45 Maxwell Road, #07-11 The URA Centre (East Wing),
Singapore 069118

HOW to apply for mediation?

There are two ways to apply:

- Register online at www.mlaw.gov.sg/cmcc; or
- Call our enquiry line at 1800-CALL-LAW (1800-2255-529).

Once both parties agree to mediation, a session can be arranged within 28 working days from the date of application.

3. GO TO COURT ONLY AS A LAST RESORT.

At the Courts...
