Dear Residents,

After much anticipation, Jurong Spring Playfields is officially launched! This beautiful complex is an integrated sports hub, which is a result of the collaboration between the Town Council and Sport Singapore. Together, we are proud to introduce our playfields as Singapore's first Active Health@SIP facility. Read on to find out what this means!

Meanwhile, there are around 32,554 trees under the Town Council's purview. While these beautiful products of Mother Nature offer pleasant green views throughout our Jurong-Clementi Town, this also calls for regular horticulture maintenance.

Horticulture maintenance means a lot more than just cutting grass. Our workers are tasked with carrying out daily inspection of matured trees to ensure that these plants are not overgrown and more importantly, do not pose any danger to people.

To aid our workers' job efficiency, I am encouraging residents to give us feedback if there are trees that are not well-maintained in your neighbourhood. You may send your feedback via our hotline 6561 2222 or e-mail enquiry@jrtc.org.sg. Those who call after working hours may contact EMSU hotline at 1800 275 5555. Together, let us appreciate and maintain Mother Nature's gifts to our land.

我们热切期待的裕泉区邻里公园已经正式启用！这座漂亮的综合体育设施由市镇理事会和体育理事会携手打造，是新加坡首个“活跃健康@邻里体育计划”设施。你可翻阅内页，了解设施的详情。

此外，在市镇会管辖区内有3万2554棵树。这些大自然的美丽植物，虽然为我们的裕廊—金文泰市镇增添了绿意盎然的怡人景象，但同时也需要我们定期进行园艺保养。

园艺保养不只是修剪野草而已，我们的工人每天都需要检查成年大树，确保它们没有过度生长。更重要的是，没有对居民造成危害。

为了提高我们工人的工作效率，我鼓励居民一旦发现邻里的树木没有得到良好保养，就拨热线 6561 2222或电邮至enquiry@jrtc.org.sg，向我们提供反馈。即使过了办公时间，你也可以拨紧急服务热线1800 275 5555，与我们联系。让我们一同爱惜和维护大自然给我们的恩赐。

Para penduduk yang dihormati,

Jurong Spring Playfields yang selama ini ditunggu-tunggu akhirnya secara rasmi telah dibuka! Kompleks indah yang merupakan pusat sukan bersepadu ini adalah hasil kerjasama Majlis Bandaran dan Sukan Singapura. Kami amat berbangga dengan Playfields ini yang merupakan kemudahan Active Health@SIP pertama di Singapura. Terus kan membaca untuk mengetahui lebih lanjut!

Terdapat sekitar 32,554 pokok di bawah pengawasan Majlis Bandaran. Sedang pokok-pokok indah menghijau ini mewarnai pemandangan di sekitar bandar Jurong-Clementi, ia memerlukan penyelenggaraan bersifat hortikultur secara berkala untuk memastikan ia terus kekal.

Penyelenggaraan hortikultur ini bukan hanya sekadar memotong rumput semata-mata. Pekerja kami ditugaskan untuk menjalankan pemeriksaan harian ke atas pokok-pokok yang matang tersebut untuk memastikan bahawa ia tidak tumbuh secara berlebihan dan yang paling penting, tidak menimbulkan bahaya kepada masyarakat awam.

Untuk memastikan pekerja kami dapat menjalankan tugas dengan lebih cekap, saya amat mengalu-alukan penduduk untuk memberi maklum balas kepada kami jika terdapat pokok-pokok yang tidak dipelihara atau diselenggara dengan baik di kawasan kejiranan masing-masing. Maklum balas tersebut boleh dibuat di talian 'hotline' 6561 2222 atau e-mel di alamat.enquiry@jrtc.org.sg. Kepada yang mahu menyalurkan maklum balas selepas waktu kerja boleh berbuat demikian di talian 'hotline' EMSU 1800 275 5555.

Marilah kita bersama-sama menghargai dan mengekalkan anugerah dari alam semula jadi di tanah kita ini.

RESIDENTS INTERACT WITH 4G MINISTERS AT COMMUNITY VISIT

数位第四代部长集体访社区，与居民互动

Residents of Jurong Central had the rare chance of meeting and talking to three ministers at the same time on 15 July 2018. During a community visit that was unlike any other, Education Minister Ong Ye Kung, Manpower Minister Josephine Teo and National Development Minister Lawrence Wong provided residents with opportunities to clarify issues close to their hearts. They were hosted by Jurong GRC MP Mr Ang Wei Neng.

The visit started at the neighbourhood centre opposite Jurong Green Community Centre. Ministers then made a stopover at several studio apartments at Block 499 Jurong West Street 41, where they were introduced to the Red Cross Home Monitoring System installed in the flats. Singapore Red Cross' Deputy Head of Community Resilience Mr Sudirman Othman explained: "These sensors study the behavioural patterns of the elderly for two weeks. The system will then alert us if there is any deviation from observed patterns, such as not waking up at their usual time, or not emerging from the toilet beyond a certain timing."

At the ministers' next stop, they witnessed volunteers distributing necessities to needy residents as part of Project Hand-in-Hand at Block 373 Jurong East Street 32. The ministers ended the visit at the Sky Garden located at the rooftop of Block 372A. There, preschool children from PCF Sparkletots at Block 308 gained knowledge on growing crops from volunteers. Principal Ms Joann Tan said: "Children only see the harvested crops at supermarkets. We want to bring them out of the classroom to teach them about the aspect of growing as well."

Speaking at a dialogue session at Jurong Green Community Club later that day, Mrs Teo said: "I am mightily impressed by the amount of work that is done by the grassroots [volunteers] here. The care, the passion that you bring to your grassroots volunteerism is very commendable."

YOUR DESTINATION FOR HEALTH AND WELLNESS

健康与保健并重的生活

What used to be a simple park in Jurong West Street 42 has been transformed into an impressive, well-equipped hub for sports and recreation. Nestled among Blocks 548, 549, 556 and 558, the newly revamped Jurong Spring Playfields neighbourhood park is a unique sports and recreation hub as it caters to various sporting and leisure activities that can be enjoyed by all age groups.

The park's official launch on 7 July 2018 saw residents explore the double-storey hub's facilities, which include a green plateau with an exercise and viewing deck on the upper level, and a multi-purpose court and activity area on the lower level. Toddler and adventure playgrounds, multi-generation fitness corners, a futsal court, a jogging track and barbecue pits are among the other amenities available.

These were made possible, thanks to the Neighbourhood Renewal Programme (NRP) in collaboration with Sport Singapore's Sport-In-Precinct (SIP) programme. The NRP also included projects such as sheltered linkways, drop-off points, pavilions and barrier-free access to bring greater convenience and connectivity.

The neighbourhood park will also be the first Active Health@SIP facility in Singapore that is specially designed to provide an endearing and creative space for the community. Social and Family Development Minister Desmond Lee, who is also MP for Jurong GRC, said the Town Council partnered with Sport Singapore for the first time to work together on a public exercising facility. "We want a conducive environment where we can all exercise and spend time together as a family. Use this place and care for it well," he told residents in his welcome address.

Apart from using the new facilities, residents also took part in fun activities and helped themselves to a variety of food served during the launch carnival. Among them was Madam Atiqah Yaakob, 35, who was with her mother and toddler. "When it was the old park, I didn't dare to come here, especially at night. It didn't feel safe as it wasn't well-lit. Now, not only does this place have bright lights, we have ample shaded space too, so we don't have to worry about rain or shine," she said.

Mr Clement Teo, 21, said the newly revamped neighbourhood park looked pretty and practical. "Families, couples and individuals will benefit from this as they can spend quality time while trying to keep fit," said Mr Teo.

Already making good use of the jogging tracks, Mr Robert Goh, 48, who was exercising at the time with his wife Madam Grace Goo, 47, said he was happy with the upgrading of the neighbourhood park. "It gives a completely different feel now. It feels bright and safe. We can come to jog here at night now too."

FIVE QUESTIONS WITH: THE GUARDIAN OF OUR GREENERY

五问绿化环境维护者

The immaculate green landscapes in Jurong-Clementi are borne out of pure hard work by the Town Council's horticulture team. What do they do and how do they do it? Horticulture manager Mr Foo Cewei, 35, shares his insights with us.

What do you do as a horticulture manager?

I establish and maintain horticultural standards and practices in the estates. I also manage and support the plants' overall health and condition. I need to check for defects as well, such as bug infestations, diseases, as well as deformation in trees. These include dead branches, rotten trunks and cavities. An important part of my job scope is to conduct regular pruning of all plants and trees to ensure that they are safe and not overgrown.

Why is it important to maintain our trees and plants?

We maintain them to ensure that residents can enjoy greenery around their estate under safe circumstances.

How does the health of these plants affect us?

Let's say there is a slanted tree in the estate which suddenly sheds leaves. This could mean that the tree is being attacked by disease or pests. This can cause the tree to look unhealthy and affect the surrounding landscape, which includes residents' flats and the common areas.

The health and structure of the trees will also be affected, potentially becoming a safety risk as the decayed limbs of the trees could fall and injure someone.

How do plants affect the liveability of our neighbourhood?

Plants beautify rural and urban landscapes. They "soften" the appearance of the estate and reduce the stress of living in a concrete jungle.

How does one person manage the needs of such a big town?

I provide support to the property managers and officers to ensure that standards of horticulture, arboriculture and turf maintenance are adhered to. This includes managing and supervising contractors to ensure that the horticultural works are carried out properly.

Clearing leaves keeps our streets clean and green.

Overgrown shrubs are trimmed regularly to maintain a neat appearance.

Overgrown weeds are removed so that they do not absorb nutrients meant for other plants.

Pruning trees keeps them healthy and structurally safe.

Did you know?

- You need keen eyes to be a horticulture manager as visual inspection of plants is a daily routine. Identifying overgrown weeds and shrubs, and spotting bare areas where plants can be added, are some ways visual inspection is done.
- The frequency of checks on trees and plants increases when the weather is abnormal. This ensures a safe and clean neighbourhood.
- Apart from working with property managers and officers, a horticulture manager also liaises with pest control agencies to keep our town green and beautiful.

HONOURING THE LATE DR ONG CHIT CHUNG

A memorial exhibition to pay tribute to his noble deeds

Bukit Batok residents may remember their former MP, the late Dr Ong Chit Chung, as the person who touched numerous lives through the various social assistance and self-development programmes which he pioneered. Hundreds of residents got a chance to learn about his legacy at the month-long Dr Ong Chit Chung Memorial Exhibition that was launched on 14 July 2018.

Held at Bukit Batok Community Club Hall, the launch was officiated by MP for Bukit Batok SMC Mr Murali Pillai, and Special Advisor to Chairman of People's Association Board Mr Lim Boon Heng. Also present were former Bukit Batok MP Mr Chai Chong Yii, and Dr S. Vasoo, who was the late Dr Ong Chit Chung's parliamentary colleague.

Dr Ong left an indelible mark in the history of Bukit Batok town. During his tenure as MP, Dr Ong enhanced the town's amenities by supporting the construction of a bus interchange, a swimming pool, polyclinic and West Mall shopping centre. He was known to spearhead fundraising efforts to build the Bukit Batok Community Club on two separate occasions. On top of that, he also developed the Bukit Batok cultural scene by encouraging residents to bond through interest groups at the neighbourhood community club.

Mr Murali delivering his speech during the launching ceremony of the memorial exhibition.

Dr Ong's compassion led him to launch support schemes helping the underprivileged in the community. The Share-A-Meal programme which he pioneered has since evolved to the present-day Food and Groceries vouchers scheme which helps needy families. Dr Ong also helped to build a social safety network in Bukit Batok by setting up voluntary welfare organisations for the benefit of residents. After his death, the Dr Ong Chit Chung Bursary Fund was set up in 2008 in his memory to support children from less privileged backgrounds.

COMMUNITY IN BLOOM AWARDS 2018

BLOOMING SUCCESS: OVER 20 GARDENS
REWARDED FOR THEIR HARD WORK

绚丽的视觉飨宴：超过20个 花园因居民努力耕种获奖

More than 20 gardens throughout Jurong-Clementi Town have been honoured with the Community In Bloom Awards 2018. The biennial awards by the National Parks Board (NParks) recognise and reward stellar gardening efforts by community groups in Singapore. The awards aim to motivate community gardeners to improve gardening standards, and promote gardening as a fun, healthy activity.

This year, 541 community gardens from housing estates, educational institutions and organisations took part – a near 100% increase in participation compared to 2014's edition. Judging criteria included the level of community involvement, gardening quality, as well as use of environmental and biodiversity-friendly practices.

We would like to congratulate our town's talented, hardworking gardeners for bagging these hard-earned accolades. Impressive work!

Mr Soh and Madam Tay showing an old photograph of the former receiving a certificate of recognition for his neighbourliness spirit, in front of their sundry shop.

The friendly faces of Mr Soh Kim Leng, 69, and his wife Madam Tay Sieo Giok, 68, are immediately recognisable to many residents staying around Block 401 Jurong West Street 42. The elderly pair have been running Binli Sundry Shop on the ground floor there for almost 20 years, yet are also known to be selfless neighbours and trustworthy friends.

On some days, they are babysitters. One of their neighbours is a father who lets his two kids stay around the shop to wait for his return. Mr Soh looks after the two children after they return from school. "When they're hungry, I offer them bread and their father always pays me back later," he said.

Other days, they are trusted caretakers. "One neighbour gave us her house keys so that we could open the door to let her maid in every day. I did that for 10 days straight," said Madam Tay. Mr Soh added that a few neighbours have also asked them to keep an eye on their homes while they were overseas.

Recalling a fire that happened on the fifth floor five years ago,

Mr Soh said: "I was at my shop when I saw firemen rushing over. They learned that the owner wasn't home." Mr Soh had seen the family walk past his shop earlier that day, and offered to call the owner to inform him of the incident. "It turned out that he had left the stove on," said Mr Soh.

He added that the couple are close to their neighbours as many of them are regular customers, and have been for years. "We know almost everyone living in our block and we keep each other's contact numbers. It's not surprising (that we are close) considering we see each other often," he said.

The couple's benevolence has earned them a nomination for the Good Neighbour Award by resident Mr Jason Ho. The 33-year-old chairman of Jurong Central Zone 4 Residents' Committee said he was 14 when he first got to know Mr Soh. "Mr Soh and his wife are kind and generous. Apart from babysitting, they occasionally offer free drinks and food to the needy. They also offered to sponsor our community events. These are just some of many examples of their kindness," said Mr Ho.
